

Kimmins triumphs in half marathon

Shane Kimmins of Shrewsbury bolted to an early lead and was never headed en route to a one-hour, 14-minute, 48-second victory in the 37th annual Jersey Shore Half Marathon, Sunday (Oct. 4) at Gateway National Recreation Area. Alex Fowlie of Basking Ridge closed to within 50 yards of Kimmins at the 10-mile point of the two-loop, 13.1-mile race but Kimmins fought off the challenge and went on to win by over 400 yards.

Fowlie held on for second in 1:16:09 with Geoff Harrison, the Brookdale Community College cross country coach, third in 1:18:49.
