MISSION STATEMENT

Honors at Brookdale was the best college decision I could have made.

Honors at Brookdale provides an enriched academic experience to a select cohort of highly motivated students. Through a curriculum that emphasizes global awareness, cultural experiences, and local engagement, Brookdale

Honors students are challenged to connect their studies to the world beyond the campus. By fostering collaborative learning and intellectual inquiry, Honors at Brookdale prepares students for transfer to competitive four-year colleges and universities, as well as for citizenship in our 21st-century world.

HONORS PROGRAM

THE HONORS PROGRAM AT BROOKDALE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Students take most of their Honors courses together, allowing them to form a community of engaged learners who support each other throughout their Honors experience.

To graduate “With Honors,” students must complete eighteen credits of Honors coursework during their time at Brookdale. Additionally, they must present a capstone project at the Honors Symposium and graduate with a 3.5 G.P.A.

To earn an “Honors Certificate of Recognition,” students must complete nine credits of Honors coursework and graduate with a 3.5 G.P.A. Presenting at the Honors Symposium is highly recommended, but not required. The Certificate is a good option for students beginning their Honors studies in their second year.

Benefits:

- Honors Orientation
- Smaller, interactive classroom experiences
- Close faculty and peer mentoring
- Co-curricular social and cultural activities with the Honors community
- Designated advising and counseling sessions for Honors students
- Resume-building experiences, including participation in the Honors Symposium
- Opportunities for leadership development
- Opportunities for specialized research for the Honors Symposium project
- Enhanced transfer opportunities to competitive four-year colleges and universities
- Special diploma recognition
