

HIGH SCHOOL COMPLETION STATUS

Provide one of the following documents that indicate the student's high school completion status.

- A copy of the student's high school diploma.
 - If you graduated from a foreign High School and you cannot obtain a copy of your High School diploma you must contact the appropriate central government agency and obtain a copy of your "secondary school leaving certificate".
- A copy of the student's final official high school transcript that shows the date when the diploma was awarded.
- A copy of the student's General Educational Development (GED) certificate or GED transcript.
- An academic transcript that indicates the student successfully completed at least a two-year program that is acceptable for full credit toward a bachelor's degree.
- If State law requires a homeschooled student to obtain a secondary school completion credential for homeschool (other than a high school diploma or its recognized equivalent), a copy of that credential.
- If State law does not homeschool (other than a high school diploma or its recognized equivalent), a transcript or the equivalent, signed by the student's parent or guardian that lists the secondary school courses the student completed and documents the shows successful completion of a secondary school education in a homeschool setting.

High School Completion Status documentation Students with a foreign High School Diploma

High School completion is documented when a High School Diploma or Final High School transcript is received along with an evaluation that states that the High School credential is equivalent to a United States High School diploma.

If you cannot obtain a copy of your High School diploma you must contact the appropriate agency in your country.
