Brookdale International Education Center

Faculty-led Study Away Program to Hawai’i

July 11 – 25, 2015

Re-imagining Hawai’i: Identity, Ethnicity & Place

Hawai’i is famous for its tropical beauty, “aloha” spirit, and unique culture. Lying at the heart of the Pacific, it has been a destination for immigrants and tourists for centuries. What brought Polynesians, and eventually Caucasians and Asians to Hawai’i? How has the Hawaiian identity of today been shaped and reshaped by the many cultures that have converged there? Spend two weeks exploring these and other questions at the University of Hawai’i with Brookdale faculty members Dr. Barbara Jones (Anthropology) and Dr. Laura Neitzel (History).

Courses Offered
ANTH 105: Cultural Anthropology (3 credits) Dr. Barbara Jones; bjones@brookdalecc.edu
HIST 235: Immigration and Ethnicity in American History (3 credits) Dr. Laura Neitzel, lneitzel@brookdalecc.edu

Program Price is $3,970 – includes, airfare, lodging meals, tuition and excursions.

The International Education Center
MAC Room 114 (Lincroft Campus)
Office hours: 8:30 am—5:00 pm; Mon. - Fri.
Tel: 732-224-2799; Fax: 732-224-2980
E-mail: international@brookdalecc.edu
http://www.brookdalecc.edu/hawaii