

Sarbmeet Kanwal has a PhD from Caltech in Theoretical Particle Physics. After an extensive career at Bell Labs in research and engineering he now teaches physics & astronomy at Brookdale Community College. Sarbmeet was recognized as an outstanding instructor and is a sought-after speaker on topics that range from popular science to its intersection with spirituality. He is the recipient of the Earl Thomas Teasley Humanitarian Award from the Monmouth County Human Relations Commission for founding an interfaith youth leadership program, called MOSAIC. He spoke at TEDx Asbury Park in 2019 on the topic, "Chaos to Cosmos".